DO YOU KNOW?

THAT when you see four flowers used together in decoration—the peony, lotus, chrysanthemum and plum flower—these signify the four seasons? They are especially interesting in their application to the arts and crafts of China, as seen on vases, plates and bowls, in textiles and embroideries. Each one of the four flowers has had a prominent part in inspiring the Chinese poets and painters, as well as in providing motifs for the Chinese craftsmen.

THAT in dressmaking, when stitching bias to straight sections, you should lay the bias underneath, the straight on top, so the feed dog can take up the ease? And, when stitching a kick pleat, you should start at the pleat break and stitch up to the waistline, coaxing the ease to the waistline, so that it does not distort the pleat. These sewing hints from the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

THAT the home life of the Egyptians over four thousand years ago, included kitchen implements, furniture, toilet articles, wall paintings, wigs, fine linen sheets and other skilled handiwork. A panoramic view of four thousand years of Egyptian history recently presented at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, gave a comprehensive, humanized picture of the highly developed ancient Egyptian culture, illustrating their high standard of living, and the amazing ingenuity practised in ancient Egyptian daily life.

THAT one of the coming fabrics which will be of vital interest to the housewife, will be made of Velon yarn, which is Firestone's most recent development? This will appear on furniture, and, not only will it be remarkable for beauty and comfort, but for the fact that this upholstery fabric can be washed easily with soap and water for a perfect cleaning job.

THAT there is a new gauge now available for knitting needles of every type? It will be helpful to knitters, as the holes in the gauge show the millimeter sizes as well as the corresponding numerical sizes. This gauge has been prepared by Susan Bates.

THAT the experts on the Information Please program, in April 1946, were stumped by the question, "What is the difference between knitting, crocheting and tatting"? Why not try out this question on the man of the house and see if he can do better than the experts.

THAT only a short time ago, it took nearly 25 tons of violets to make a single ounce of natural oil? Today, the violet odor is produced synthetically, and developments by the chemists have been such, that now every perfume on the market depends on synthetics for its individuality and its character.

Mother and Daughter

EVERYBODY'S happy! Small daughter, going off to bed, feels as secure as her sleepy dog—for her pretty housecoat is just like Mother's! Mother likes hers because its slimming lines, the charming designs on panels and smart, large pocket, give this housecoat a distinctive, out-of-the-ordinary Look! Both housecoats, carrying out the so popular mother-daughter idea, are made of soft, warm Botany flannel. The color is pastel light blue, and the embroidery designs are done in bright royal blue. Also effective in pastel light pink flannel, bright fuchsia embroidery. The embroidery motif (shown in circle) is in easy satin stitch and outline. Use six-strand cotton. The child's housecoat is No. 1290, in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10. Pattern, 35c. Size 6 requires 2¼ yds. 52-inch. Mother's housecoat is No. 1289, sizes 12, 14, 16, 18. Pattern, 50c. Size 16 requires 3¼ yds. 52-inch. Blue or yellow transfers.

That lovely LUX LOOK

THIS WOOL SWEATER
HAS BEEN LUXED
12 TIMES . . .
It's color-fresh,
soft, like new!

Sweaters stay lovely longer washed this easy LUX way

- 1 Before washing sweater for the first time, draw an outline of it on plain paper. Remove unwashable buttons.
- 2 Make rich, lukewarm suds with Lux. Wash garment inside out, squeezing suds gently through sweater. Don't soak or rub.
- 3 Rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water the same temperature as suds. Keep garment supported with hands. Don't wring or twist.
- 4 To hasten drying, knead out moisture with Turkish towel; unroll immediately.
- 5 Shape to outline drawn previously and hold in place with rustproof pins. Dry flat, away from radiator or stove.

Just see how lovely this smart cardigan sweater looks! It's soft, colorful, trim-fitting, yet it was actually Luxed and dried 12 times before this photograph was taken.
Keep all your washable woolens lovely longer with gentle Lux care!

Don't risk strong soaps, hot water, or cake-soap rubbing. These things cause shrinking and fading. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in gentle Lux.

See the difference . . .

THE LEFT HALF of this sweater felted and shrank from hot water and cake-soap rubbing. Compare with the original outline!
THE RIGHT HALF of the same sweater (cut apart) was washed the gentle Lux way—see how perfectly it retained its shape.

NUMBER KNITTING

THIRD PRESENTATION!
EASY GOING—FUN TO DO
JUST IN PLAIN KNITTING
DONE BY NUMBERED CHART

Copyright 1946 by Virginia Woods Bellamy (patent applied for)

Above: Here is a set for the new little bundle from heaven that makes news indeed—a new, lovely pink star “Number Knitted” into the center of a white afghan. And the pink and white combination goes into the tiny housecoat, cap and mitts. If it is for a boy, substitute heavenly blue wool for pink.

Above: Of course mother must be “Number Knitted” into a delectable pink and white combination to match the baby’s knitted outfit. The Number Knitting method is responsible for giving the bed jacket that lovely hang and drape. So enchanting is this cape, we are sure some young mothers will use it for an evening wrap. Carlin Comfort from Saks Fifth Avenue.

HERE is the third instalment of Virginia Bellamy’s patented Number Knitting. Readers who bought the Number Knitting Pamphlet No. 2 from the previous issue of Needlework Magazine, knitted the designs based on the divided square. No doubt some of our readers made the wonderful Five Star Admiral Afghan, which was based on divided squares. In this issue, we are introducing some lovely designs based on a new unit called the wing (or parallelogram). If you will look at the baby afghan, you will see the double wing unit in the center. Four double wing units make the lovely star done entirely in pink. After this is knitted, the rest of the afghan is knitted to the pink center with white wool. The darling little baby housecoat is made in wing units, with the top in pink and the skirt part in white. Notice the wing motif in the cap, with its cute little wing trim on the top. And aren’t the mitts adorable? Under the coat, the baby is wearing a knitted shirt and panties, which is a sweet little suit in itself. The panties button at the sides for convenience in adjusting the diapers. A glance at the mother’s boudoir cape-jacket shows the matching wing unit used for the pink top, with white triangular pieces filling in around the lower edge. This is the most graceful thing imaginable, and Mrs. Bellamy has designed wing ties that are very chic to finish off the neck. The baby afghan is made in Botany Germantown wool, while the rest of the baby set is made in Botany 3-ply Saxatones. The cape-jacket is a combination of Germantown for the pink top and white Saxatones for the fill-in triangles at lower edge.

To go from wool to cotton, we are showing a place mat for the lunch table. Very original in design—very charming. Here, Mrs. Bellamy carried out a leaf effect in two shades of green. Divided squares are used for the leaves. This design is made with Lily Knitting and Crochet Cotton, which gives the place mat a nice solid texture, that is especially appropriate to use with pottery dishes.

All of these designs are to be knitted in the new Number Knitting method, which consists of following a chart instead of directions. Women who once start the Number Knitting, find it very fascinating. The charts are worked out on graph paper. They are based on squares. Perhaps some (Continued on page 53)

Above, left: An answer to the eternal question of how to dress the luncheon table for breakfast, lunch or supper. It is a lunch mat illustrating modern treatment of a leaf design made in Knitting and Crochet Cotton, giving an appropriate texture to use under pottery. The design is planned so you can use two shades of any color. Make it to suit your own pottery colors.

A. Popcorns prepared this way are wonderful for babies. Knit them into a three-piece set—all over the body of the tiny jacket. Have them on bonnet and booties, too. Leaflet directions No. 201-NB, size 6 months, for this Popcorn Set (see Leaflets, page 64). Two 2-oz. skeins Minerva Featherweight Knitting Worsted required for this tiny set.

B. Something feathery in a baby's wardrobe is all to the good—knitted up in a soft wool. The feather design provides the lacy touch for the daintily ridged yoke. Leaflet No. 201-NB gives directions for Feather Design Set B (also Popcorn Set A), 6 months size. See Leaflets, page 64. Set B requires 3 1-oz. balls Minerva Baby Yarn for sacque, bonnet, booties.

F. As soft as it looks—made of fluffy, light-weight yarn—Baby's first sun suit is modeled with snug shoulders . . . note the double strap . . . and a bare back crossed by single straps. The front is prettied up with cable-effect stripes. Directions for Sun Suit E-1234, size 1 year, on page 39.

C. A mite of a slipover, designed for "little one" comfort, offers protection and charm at the age of 6 months. Buttoned up neck closing avoids tugging and pulling when Baby gets in and out of it. Directions for this Baby Slipover 562-C, to be knitted in kitten-soft wool, size 6 months, page 39.

C. Perhaps you prefer a button closing on Baby's sacque. With it goes a plain yoke and patterned body design (see detail). For 3-piece Baby Set 515-C, size 6 months, see page 38.

D. Play-hard suspender suit for a bouncing 2-year-old may be worn with little shirts or "as is". The original color scheme is most inviting—dark red with light blue knit-in crosses on suspenders and belt. For Brother Suit 559-C, size 2, see page 52.

E. Sister, her baby brother's senior by one year, has cute pockets and a bib front on a matching playsuit. Sturdy, as it needs to be, in sports yarn. Contrasting knitted-in flecks border the waistline. Knitting directions, size 3, for Sister Suit 559-C, page 52.

used to embroider designs

CONSIDERING the gay way that linens, worked in cross-stitch, pick up a bridge luncheon—or any other table—it's lucky for us hostesses, with families to manage, that this attractive embroidery takes no effort. You can do cross-stitch while you're concentrating on Joan's coming out party, or the Global Peace! The four charming transfer designs sketched above offer plenty of latitude for individual preference, and china on hand. Roses are all-occasion eye-catchers. We've shown two. Pattern No. 1272, American Beauty Roses, includes 4 pair of corner motifs, $6\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ ins.; 8 pair of roses, and 28 buds. Blue or yellow transfer, 35c. The pattern for Moss Roses, No. 1275, includes 2 pair of corner motifs, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ ins., 4 small corner motifs, and cross-stitch border. Blue transfer, 25c. The fruit border (upper right) is nice for autumn affairs. Pattern No. 1264, fruit motifs, includes 16 motifs: 8 fruit motifs, $3 \times 13\frac{1}{2}$ ins.; 4 corner motifs and 4 leaf motifs. Blue transfer, 35c. The motifs are given separately so that they can be easily arranged on cloths or runners of various sizes. Border and leaves of the Dogwood design (lower right), one in a darker shade of the background color, are new, very smart. Pattern for Dogwood design, No. 1274, includes 2 pair of large flower corners, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$ ins., 4 medium corners, 4 small corners, 10 yds. of cross-stitch border. Blue transfer, 35c.

Above: A lift for the luncheon table! The place mat, as pictured, has a light blue center, a border of dark blue. Lovely texture, knitted in soft cotton yarn—rows of cables and rows of seed stitch. With its softness, texture and color it "takes" to pottery dishes! Knitting directions are on this page, below. Table setting, courtesy of Plummer, Ltd.

Right: Dark leaves are silhouetted against a light ground. Planned for a handsome table setting so that you may choose your own colors. In the original they were yellow and brown. Mercerized cotton was used to make it. Crochet yours for fall and winter luncheons by directions for Leaf Doily No. 3717 on page 95. Tableware by Plummer, Ltd.

The edge of the mat is finished off with a feathery scallop. Make it in white, cream or ecru crochet cotton. Directions for Motif Luncheon Set on page 68. Table setting, Plummer, Ltd.

WOVEN BLANKETS

Right: Just turned One, Deidre poses in her carriage, snugly tucked in under a heavy hand-woven wool robe . . . the right texture for wintry days and a "must" for her health program.

By
Osma
Gallinger

THINK of texture when you plan the next set of hand-woven baby blankets. For outdoor service, a heavy carriage robe to cope with Old Man Winter; for indoors and the take-over from winter to spring-time, a medium-weight blanket. To fill these requirements we have illustrated a heavy blanket of Germantown yarn, in all white, with herringbone borders at the ends. If you prefer, weave it on a white warp with pink or blue border. For the medium-weight wool blanket, the dainty Raindrops pattern is woven in strips of pink and white, and flecked with silk.

These two designs from the Creative Crafts School of Weaving at Guernsey, Pa., planned by Osma Gallinger, have been carefully worked out with drafts and directions. These blankets may be made in standard sizes and are adaptable to the width of your loom. Directions for standard sizes and points about weaving with woolen yarn are included in McCall Leaflet No. 208-NB, which also carries the weaving instructions and drafts for making the Raindrop Blanket and the Carriage Robe. See page 64, Leaflet Notes, to obtain directions.

These interesting blankets are planned for baby charm as well as serviceability. Mrs. Gallinger, past master at hand-weaving, with years of teaching behind her, conducts not only classes at her Creative Crafts School but an efficient correspondence course and publishes a monthly weaving magazine as well.

The heavy carriage robe is fluffy and warm, woven in easy-to-handle Germantown yarn. The design is in the "3-twills" pattern with herringbone border. As shown in carriage, all white, with the straight herringbone border (A). Crib blanket, above, has reversed herringbone border (B).

Make

A Lucky Throw Afghan

the new way

LUCKY in more ways than one! First, because anyone who owns this warm plaid throw, come winter, is really in luck. Second, because anyone who makes it has a fascinating bit of modern craftwork in hand. Instead of working with yarns of three different colors, you work with one ball of yarn, space-dyed in red, blue and white. That's where the innovation comes in! You simply sail along, following a chart, and the diamonds take shape as you crochet row after row. The whole thing is so accurately planned you quickly learn to accommodate your stitches to the chart, so many stitches in each space-dyed color, and so on to the finish.

The afghan as illustrated is designed in red, white and blue—good for a man, good for a woman, perfect for a college room, wonderful for the car, and right as rain in town or country. The red and blue colors strike a happy medium, not too bright, not too dull, but just right and easy to live with. Size of finished afghan is 45" x 63". Requires 44 1-oz. skeins of "Colorplus" Germantown No. 52; 2 skeins red Germantown No. 12 and 2 skeins blue No. 13 for border (1-oz. sks.); bone crochet hook No. 3. Directions on Leaflet No. 203-NB. See Leaflets, p. 64.

DO IT WITH POPCORN AND PAINT

Popcorn flowers and yucca leaves, touched up with paint, were used in the two arrangements above. The popcorn was pasted on mullein seed pods.

AS A child, I walked barefooted on the velvety, silvery mullein leaves appearing in the spring pastures. I wondered why the cows did not eat them, but as to the answer, never a cow has given me a hint! In the fall, I watched the mullein seed pods, cactus-like. As an adult, I noted that these seed pods would make nice line arrangements, except for their color. I also had observed the flower-like qualities of popcorn after it had been popped. Why not try pasting popcorn on mullein seed pods? I determined to see if this would make a nice flower arrangement.

My little daughter made up the paste with flour and water and pasted the corn on the mullein with ease. She also painted our square cake pan Chinese red, thus we had a fine container just the width of our mantel. To cover the needle flower holder, we painted cockle-burs Chinese red with opaque water color. (Or, use show card ink commonly used in making posters.) These burs adhere to the holder by nature, but care must be taken to protect the fingers.

When I made the arrangement, it looked very well, but it needed something to tie it together. It needed something colorful, and something rugged. Introducing other colors was not successful, so the color had to be red. My mind ran over the list of evergreens and stalled, but on my way to work, I saw in the yard of a neighbor, the bayonet-sharp yucca. I painted this red with tempera paint; even the charming hair-like ravelings at the edges of the leaf absorbed the color. At last the arrangement was satisfying. At each end of the mantel I placed a large, red, twisted candle around which I had tied a crepe paper bow and at the base of which I had popcorn snowballs, the corn being held in place by biscuit dough.

Popcorn may be painted any luscious color. For this Christmas I chose fuchsia guided by the fact that my antique Russian brass candlesticks have globes of that color. For the center arrangement, I wanted to give an illusion of elegance, since it was to be placed under a classical oil painting. My container was a gold-leaf indirect light. For the arrangement, I gilded dainty branches of leafless bridal-wreath. When this was dry, I glued on with rubber glue, the dainty popcorn blossoms. This I arranged in the container and gilded ivy to run like filigree over the end of the mantel.

Which is Worse? MARRIAGE WITHOUT LOVE OR LOVE WITHOUT MARRIAGE?

AMALIE was a nobody, the daughter of a drunken tenant farmer. Alfred was rich, respectable. But he loved this ravishing, fascinating, red-mouthed woman, and married her despite his bitter knowledge that she did not, and probably never would, love him.

His half-brother Jerome, the devil-may-care wastrel, the man no woman had ever yet resisted, tried vainly to prevent the wedding. Jerome and Amalie hated each other on sight. He threatened her, tried to compromise her, tried to buy her off—and she laughed at him. Then, suddenly, caught in a passion as ruthless as themselves, they found they were deeply, recklessly in love. Did Amalie choose her loveless marriage—and security, or a lawless love—and disgrace?

"This Side of Innocence," by Taylor Caldwell, is a brilliant, swiftly-moving, and intensely alive story that will stand with the great dramatic novels of the decade. Says the Philadelphia Inquirer: "A masterful piece of story-telling . . . 500 pages so solidly satisfying, so pulsing with life, that one resents their coming to an end." Here is a novel that reached the very top of Best-Seller lists within a month after publication! Price, in the publisher's edition, $3.00, but now offered FREE to new members of the Literary Guild Book Club.

SAVE UP TO 50% ON OUTSTANDING NEW BOOKS

Literary Guild membership is free—there are no dues or fees. Each month you will receive your copy of "Wings," the Guild's illustrated book-review Brochure, which contains articles about the Literary Guild selection to be published the following month. From these articles you decide whether or not you care to receive the Guild book described. If not, you simply return the form supplied and no book will be sent to you that month. If, however, the Guild selection is one you don't want to miss, it will be sent to you automatically on publication date.

Literary Guild books are selected by our Editorial Staff from proofs submitted by leading publishers long in advance of their publication date. Because the Literary Guild is the largest book club in the world, a huge special edition is printed at a tremendous saving in cost. This saving is passed on to members. The Literary Guild edition is manufactured at the same time as the publisher's edition, yet Guild members pay a flat price of only $2.00 for each book accepted, instead of the higher price charged for the same book sold at retail in the publisher's edition.

"Collector's Library" Bonus Books Free

In addition, Guild members receive a beautifully printed, handsomely bound copy of one of the "Collector's Library" volumes—on sale at retail for $5.00 per copy—as a bonus for every four Guild books purchased! To be a "member in good standing" merely requires that you accept a minimum of only four Guild books a year out of the 12 or more to be published.

Send No Money—Mail Coupon NOW

As a special inducement for joining the Guild now instead of "later" you will be sent—FREE—a copy of "This Side of Innocence," which is being sold currently in the publisher's edition at $3.00. As a new member you can now buy any of the recent Guild selections described on this page for only $2.00 each. See coupon.

Because of production limitations the number of new members the Guild can service is restricted. By joining now, your new membership can be accepted at once, and you will be guaranteed against any price increase on Guild selections for a year.

Greetings

OUR Christmas Card Leaflet went over with such a bang last year that we decided to offer you four new designs. We have the original cards here in our office and they are really very clever and most attractive. There's a suggestion of the real about each one. Take Santa's suit, for instance, you'd never think it could be made from that little left-over patch from Grandpa's red flannels you were going to throw away. And the little Dutch maiden's apron and cap! Would you believe it if we told you they were once part of an old collar and cuff set? The shy little rocking horse has so many novel touches that you would wonder how the designer, Mrs. Gertrude Ruback Marshall, ever thought of them. His saddle is soft 'cause it's made of cloth; his stirrup is part of an old hook-and-eye; his tail boasts of having descended from a broom; you can pull on his reins; and last but not least, he rocks. There's a secret about that big red candle the little elf is lighting. You'll strike a real match for him.

You're bound to win admiration from your friends with these cards, since most people admire originality more than anything else. Think of the money you'll save, too! Outside of the odds and ends of material which abound in any rag bag, you'll need the following: colored or white paper, about 9" x 12", a pair of small scissors, a jar of paste, some Scotch tape and a fine paint brush with tempera paints. Most of these can be bought at your stationer's.

SN'T Miss Jennifer Boyles' 1860 wedding dress adorable—with its picture-book net overskirt, satin streamers and bows? This exquisite bridal gown and the other quaint costumes shown here, are authentic reproductions in miniature, of actual dresses worn by fashionable ladies of the 1860's.

The McCall Pattern No. 1292 for these Godey Lady Book doll costumes fits the commercial 12-inch Godey Lady Book doll with china head, manufactured by Ruth Gibbs. However, for those who wish to sew their own dolls, as well as make the costumes, there is a pattern included in No. 1292 for making Godey dolls 12 inches high with high bust and tiny waist. You can make the dolls of muslin, stuff them with cotton, embroider their quaint little faces, and fashion the hair with six-strand cotton. Transfers are included for the 6 faces.

The enchanting costumes can take their place in the finest doll collections. The costumes were worn by such noteworthies as Mrs. Enright (morning dress E), Mrs. Cabot (tea gown B), Mrs. Carter (walking dress C), Mrs. Cartright (dinner gown A) and Mrs. Eustis (ball gown F).

A set of these dolls would be wonderful, also, for starting a little girl's doll collection. Dolls like these were made originally as miniature manikins, and sent by the French dressmakers to the American trade for selling and ordering. From that beginning, they were reproduced as toys for many years.

The McCall Pattern No. 1292 is for all the costumes shown, to fit a 12-inch doll, and includes as well, pattern for making the 12-inch dolls and transfers for embroidering their faces. Blue transfer. Pattern, 50c.

Woven in Wool

THE engaging little animals that scamper across Baby's afghan are worked in cross-stitch. The afghan is made up of woven squares, sewed together in strips. The squares are woven with Weave-It, fascinating hand-weaving craft, done on a small frame with a long weaving needle. Lovely "pick-up" work, easy to handle, requiring no difficult technique. The squares can be pink or blue, the animals white. Germantown wool was used for the afghan illustrated. Full directions on Leaflet No. 212-NB, see Leaflets, page 64

Knitted in Wool

A "QUICKIE" to knit, if there ever was one, because it is done with thick, fluffy wool and large wooden knitting needles. It's a heavenly set for any baby who rides around in a carriage. Robe and hood are in matching pattern—for pink-and-white or blue-and-white combination. Not only Baby, but his grateful Mommy will shower blessings on anyone who comes across with this practical gift at Christmas—or for Baby's birthday, or pre-birthday. See Carriage Robe and Hood No. M-620 on page 86 for the knitting directions.

Rnd 6: Start gusset for thumb as follows: K 1, inc in next st, k 2, inc in next st, k to end of rnd. Work even in pattern st for 3 rnds, keeping thumb gussets plain k. Continue to inc in this manner every 4th rnd, thus having 2 more sts between increases until there are 10 (8) sts for thumb gusset. Work 4 (3) more rnds even. On next rnd slip the 10 (8) sts for thumb gussets on a safety pin, cast on 6 sts to replace them and work even until glove measures from last rnd of ribbing 4 1/4" (4"). On last rnd inc to 62 (56) sts.

Start fingers as follows: With the sts directly above the first inc st on the right side of thumb gusset as a guide, divide sts in half and place them on 2 safety pins.

First Finger: Slip 8 (7) sts from each safety pin on needles, cast on 2 sts, divide them evenly and join in a rnd. K even in plain k for 3" (2 3/4").

Next rnd: * K 1, k 2 tog, repeat from * around. Next rnd: Work even. Break thread and pull thread through remaining sts, fasten off neatly on wrong side.

Second Finger: Slip 8 (7) sts from each safety pin on needles, pick up 2 sts on inside of finger just knitted, arrange on three needles, join to form a rnd. K even for 3 1/4" (3"). Shape top same as first finger and fasten off.

Third Finger: Same as second finger, but shape top after 3" (2 3/4").

Fourth Finger: Slip remaining sts from safety pins, divide them on three needles and work same as second and third fingers. Shape top after 2 3/4" (2 1/4").

Thumb: Place the 10 (8) sts from safety pin on a knitting needle, pick up 10 sts from back of thumb and arrange sts on 3 needles. Work even for 2 1/2" (2 1/4"). Shape top same as for other fingers.

Left-Hand Glove: Work in same manner as right hand glove with this exception. With the sts directly over the last increase st, on the left side of the thumb gusset as a guide, divide sts in half and place them on two safety pins, before starting fingers.

Rnd 1: * K 3, p 3, repeat from * around.

Rnd 2: P 1, * k 3, p 3, repeat from *.

Rnd 3: P 2, * k 3, p 3, repeat from *.

Cast on 72 (68) sts, divide sts on 3 needles, join, being careful not to twist sts. Work in ribbing of k 2, p 2 for 3 1/2" (3"). Now for the large size, work in pattern st for 7 1/2". (For small size, decrease on last rnd to 66 sts and work in pattern st for 7".)

Now divide sts for heel as follows: Work in pattern st for 36 sts and place these sts on an extra needle for instep. The remaining 36 (32) sts are for heel. Working on heel sts, work double heel as follows: On the k side, * k 1, sl 1, repeat from * across row. Purl next row. Repeat these two rows until heel measures 2 1/2" (2"), ending with a k row.

To Turn Heel: P 20 (17), p 2 tog, p 1 and turn. Sl 1, k 5, k 2 tog, k 1, turn. P across to the hole made by slipping the st and p the sts tog on each side of the hole, p 1. Repeat this, always slipping 1 st and knitting or purling the 2 sts tog each side of the hole, until all sts are used up. End with a k row. Now pick up 16 (14) sts on right side of heel. K across instep in pattern stitch. (Pattern is carried down the instep needle alone until starting to toe-off.) 1st Needle: K to within 3 sts of end of needle, k 2 sts tog, k 1.

2nd Needle: K 1, sl 1, k 1, p s s o, work to within 3 sts of end, k 2 tog, k 1.

3rd Needle: K 1, sl 1, k 1, p s s o and work to end. K one rnd even *.

Repeat between *s working one decreasing and one even rnd until there are 8 sts left on the front needle and 4 sts on each of the two back needles. Weave these sts tog with kitchener st.

Crocheted Bag No. 2291

Gauge: 2 pattern sts=1"; 3 rows=1".

Work 1 s c in each d c across row, then work 1 s c around entire bag, working 3 s c in each corner, being careful to keep bag flat. Fasten off.

Pull: (Make 2.) Make a ch to measure a little more than an inch. Work back and forth in s c until pull measures 32" from start. Fasten off.

Plain Knitting is knitting back and forth. When the row described above is repeated back and forth, any number of times, the work becomes alike on both sides and is called garter stitch.

Ridge or Rib—To knit back and forth once is called a ridge or rib.

Yo means to bring the yarn under the needle to the front, then over the needle to the back, ready to knit next stitch. This gives an extra stitch as this loop is knitted or purled on the next row as though it were a stitch.

Seed or Moss Stitch—Cast on an uneven number of stitches. Row 1: K 1, p 1 and repeat to end, finishing the row with k 1. Repeat this row for the length required, always having a knitted stitch come over a purled stitch and vice versa.

Kitchener Stitch Weaving. Break off yarn, leaving about 24 inches on the work. Thread this in a darning needle, draw the yarn through the first stitch of front needle as if for purling, then through first stitch of back needle as if for knitting, then through first stitch of front needle as if for knitting, and take this stitch off, * draw through first stitch of front needle as if for purling, then through first stitch of back needle as if for knitting, and take this stitch off, draw through first stitch of back needle as if for knitting, draw through first stitch of front needle as if for knitting, and take this stitch off, repeat from * until all are taken off. Fasten end on the wrong side.

Half Double or Short Double Crochet—Make like d c until there are three loops on hook; then thread over and draw through all three loops.

Treble Crochet—This is made the same way as a double crochet, with the thread wrapped around the hook twice instead of once and then worked off—Yarn over and through two loops, yarn over and through two loops, yarn over and through two loops. For a Double Treble, thread over the hook three times; and for a Triple Treble, thread over the hook four times, taking off 2 loops at a time as in the treble crochet.

PIN OR PAD YOUR CHAIRS

Shown above are some interesting examples of "Pin-Up" furniture from the home of Mrs. Walter E. Blair of New York City. The pin-up idea was for summer covering to protect the upholstery; however, the results were so pleasing that the covers were kept on all year. It amazed us to find that this finished, professional upholstering job was done just by pinning. Here are some of Mrs. Blair's pinning tips. Pin-up covers are (Continued on page 85)

The "modern" chair shown above is from the home of Isabelle Vaughan, an artist who lives in New York. Miss Vaughan calls them her "ice cream parlor chairs." She brought the chairs to town from her mother's attic in New England. They were finished in the typical dark wood with cane seats; but now, the wood is bleached and finished a soft off-white, and the seat is covered in rich emerald green. Many other chairs could (Continued on page 85)

"Down to size 12 from size 18
—now clothes are fun again"

—says Mrs. Mary L. Crowley of Mobile, Alabama

"WHAT an ordeal it is, shopping for clothes or making them, when your hips are so large that your body is all out of proportion," says Mrs. Crowley. "You have to take a large size and then lose the style in making alterations. But that's all over for me. I can slip into a size 12 and it fits perfectly."

Mrs. Crowley had tried "starvation" diets, taken off a few pounds each time only to have them come right back. Then she did what a quarter of a million other women have done—she enrolled for the DuBarry Success Course. "It was no starvation diet but a plan for 'eating as a beauty eats,'" she says. "I was never hungry for a moment, but I lost 3 pounds every week until I was down from 158 to 124."

"Then, too, I learned skin care, skillful make-up, how to style my hair becomingly. My complexion has a glow it never had before. Biggest thrill of all—my husband is so proud of me now he wants to take me out and 'show me off,' as he says, several evenings a week. Frankly, I look and feel like a new person. All this I owe to the DuBarry Success Course and I never can say enough for what it has meant to me."

FROM Southern California to Canada, Rhode Island to Wyoming, interesting letters have come in from our readers showing us "How They Did It" with snapshots! How we wish we could reproduce them all!

1. Beginning at top of page, smiling two-year-old Marguerite Hawkins wears the pretty, smocked dress which her mother made from McCall pattern No. 1189. Surrounding Marguerite are her numerous McCall pattern toys. Her aunt, Miss Ena M. Hamilton, of Waco, Texas, who sent the snap, writes, "Sissy loves these stuffed toys, while we enjoy making them from such clear and simple directions."

2. The handsome photograph of the Mallard ducks in flight (top center) shows how cleverly Mrs. Charlotte Dau, of Brooklyn, N. Y., carried out our cross-stitch design, No. 608, in needlepoint. And she adjusted the design, too, from a large rectangle to long, narrow proportions. This looks very handsome as it hangs over her fireplace.

3. Betty Kay's smart, white wool weskit is worked in bright red. Her mother, Mrs. A. Huntsman, of Santa Monica, Calif., who made it from McCall pattern No. 1154, writes, "Betty Kay wears so many stamped and embroidered McCall dresses that they are becoming a tradition with us!" We think that's a big compliment!

4. Willa Schmidt, four, loves Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane, McCall pattern, No. 1086. Her pretty seersucker dress with knitted yoke, was also made according to McCall instructions. "The dress and toys were so much admired," writes Willa's father, Mr. Willy Schmidt, of Chicago, Ill., "that my wife made several of them for other little girls at Christmas."

5. From Mrs. J. William Thayer, of Cleveland, Ohio, came the snap of her daughter, wearing this cunning winter outfit. It is aqua wool, embroidered in red hearts, beige leaves. Mrs. Thayer, who made it from McCall pattern No. 1082, added the smart touch of fur on hat and collar.

6. From Mrs. H. J. Beazley, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, comes this: "Last summer I was making rag dolls for the December church bazaar from McCall pattern No. 1014. My small daughter, Barbara, who is in the center of the picture, and her little friends, Marie and Dianne, were so taken with the dolls, that the bazaar had to wait while I made one for each of them!"

7. Sharon Lucas, who lives in Indianapolis, Ind., holds three Uncle Wiggily dolls, made from McCall pattern No. 1086. Her mother, Mrs. Gerald Lucas, writes, "This was the first time I ever made a stuffed toy. I really enjoyed it!" The embroidered frock Sharon has on is made from McCall pattern No. 1103.

8. "Our Mother-Daughter dresses which I made from McCall No. 995 and 996, turned out so beautifully that we are (Continued on page 92)

Paint them yourself on cotton

The playful little pets are from McCall pattern No. 1253, the Mexican serenade from No. 626. Towels and place mat.

Nursery sheet with skittish animals No. 1101, and Tulip pillow case, No. 750, are done in painting and embroidery.

McCALL Needlework patterns have been a great joy to me for many years. The other day I tried an experiment and I think the idea is worth passing on to others as it has endless possibilities." This from Mrs. Katherine Atkinson of Toronto, Canada. And we think the idea is worth passing on.

Beginning with the photograph just above, Mrs. Atkinson stamped the gay little animals from McCall Appliqué Transfer No. 1101 to make a bed sheet for her six-year-old daughter. Instead of using appliqué for the animals, she tried painting them with the Prang Textile paints and then embroidered around the painted design, doing the outline and the little flowers with six-strand cotton, and with charming results. Mrs. Atkinson also tells us that she has washed these sheets many times and the color of the paint is still bright and unfaded. She used a sable oil paint brush, says the work goes very quickly, and that the paint does not run over the stamped lines, provided that too much thinner is not mixed with the paint. Of course cotton material should be well washed to remove any dressing before the design is stamped and painted. From the colors in the kit, Mrs. Atkinson mixed her own to harmonize with her room color schemes.

The pretty sheet below the animals is from Transfer No. 750, with morning glories painted and outlined in blue and the rest of design in a delicate green. Next above is the Mexican scene place mat from Transfer No. 626. This, done in gay colors, is most attractive. Last but not least comes the adorable pair of animals on pillow cases, with kitten painted pink and outlined in a deeper shade, and dog in blue with a pink dish beside it. Black is used to embroider the features. (Continued on page 91)

VOCATIONAL OR RECREATIONAL?

A bit of easy knitting for dolly may surprise mother by going over in a big way with daughter. For the first knitting lesson, we are showing on page 50 a little knitted doll set (No. 5) designed in squares, thus requiring no increasing or decreasing for the first handling of the knitting needles by small hands.

DANNY DINGLE AND BUMPY

Bumpy, all dressed up in his new knitted suit, seems more interested in Danny than in the suit he is wearing. Danny Dingle is such a lanky, long-legged, twisty kind of pal, and his long nose endears him to young hearts. Danny (McCall Pattern No. 1284) and directions for Boys' Two-Piece Suit No. 2322, p. 58.

Girls' Holiday Bonnet

SIZE 4 TO 8 YEARS

Materials: Bernat's Colorstyle Knitting Worsted (4-ply), 2 skeins of red or desired color; 1 pair each of No. 1 and No. 4 knitting needles (standard). English sizes, 12 and 9.

Gauge: 6 sts=1"; 8 rows=1".

Using No. 4 needles cast on 90 sts, work in stockinette st (k 1 row, p 1 row) for 2". Then work in pattern as follows:

Pattern: Row 1: K 2 sts, * k the 2nd st of the next 2 sts in back of the first st, k the first st of the 2 sts, k 5 sts, repeat from * across, ending k 2. Row 2: Purl. Row 3: Knit. Row 4: Purl.

Row 5: K 2 sts, * k the 2nd st of the next 2 sts in front of the first st, k the first st of the 2 sts, k 5 sts, repeat from * across, ending k 2. Row 6: Purl. Row 7: Knit. Row 8: Purl.

Repeat these 8 rows for pattern. Work pattern until bonnet measures 10" from the beginning. Bind off loosely.

Fold work in half (crosswise) and sew bound-off edges together, on wrong side, thus forming center back of cap. Fold center back point down over back seam to within 1/4" from the lower edge of bonnet, tack to position.

Neck Edge: Holding right side of work toward you (starting 2" from edge), on No. 1 needles, pick up 70 sts across lower edge of bonnet, ending 2" from the opposite end. The 2" of stockinette st at each end are to be left free. Work in k 2, p 2 ribbing for 3/4". Bind off loosely.

Tassel: Wind wool 16 times around a cardboard 8 1/2" long. Slip off cardboard and make a ch of 7 sts, using 4 strands of wool. To start the 7-st ch put the 4 strands of wool through the 16 loops of tassel. Fasten off ch, leaving ends long enough to sew tassel to point on bonnet. Wind a strand of yarn one inch below top loop of tassel and fasten securely. Cut opposite ends of tassel.

Tie Strings: Using 4 strands of wool, make 2 chains, each 13" long. Tie in a knot to finish end. Roll the 2-inch plain band of stockinette st (across front of cap) tightly to meet first row of pattern st. See illustration. Sew each tie string to position, at the same time tacking end of roll to position at lower edge.

WHAT SIZE LINEN YARN?

If you are starting out to learn the delightful craft of weaving at home, and wish more information regarding linen yarns, Miss Annafreddie Carstens will be glad to answer your questions. Miss Carstens, who wrote this article for home weavers, is the Weaving Consultant for Hughes Fawcett, Inc.

SUPPOSE you are a beginner home weaver and you've decided to weave some fingertip towels. You know the kind of yarn you want—Irish linen, because it's the most absorbent and makes the most beautiful towels. But do you know what size yarn you want? Or how many pounds? Your instructor has talked about twenties-two and forties-two and sixties-three. You see 20/2, 40/2 and 60/3, etc., printed on linen yarn labels. What does it all mean?

The first number in each case indicates the yarn number of a single strand. The second number shows the ply or the number of these strands that are twisted together to make the yarn you will use in your weaving. A twenties-two is two strands of number 20 twisted together. A sixties-three is three strands of number 60 twisted together. Twisting two or more strands together gives added strength to the yarn. Bear this in mind when choosing a warp yarn which must stand considerable strain on the loom.

Let us first take up the question of yarn number. Number 1 is the coarsest, and the larger the yarn number, the finer the single strand of yarn. When one pound of flax is spun into a single strand 300 yards in length, that yarn is number 1. Double the number of yards in which a single pound is spun and you have 600 yards of number 2 yarn. For number 3 yarn you would have 3 x 300 or 900 yards in a pound. The yardage in one pound of single-ply yarn is always the yarn number multiplied by 300.

Now suppose that one pound of any one of these single-ply yarns is made into a 2-ply or 3-ply or a 5-ply yarn. The total yardage of single-ply yarn made from one pound of flax would have to be divided into 2, 3 or 5 lengths, and then be twisted together. Therefore, in two-ply yarn the resulting length would be half as long as the original single-ply length. The 3-ply yarn would be one third as long. The 5-ply yarn would be one-fifth as long. But in every case the yarn would weigh exactly one pound.

Therefore, to find the number of yards in a pound, first multiply the yarn number by 300. This gives the yardage in single-ply. Now divide this yardage by the ply number. This gives the actual number of yards you'll find in the pound of yarn you have bought. Suppose it is a twenties-three (20/3). First, multiply 20 (the yarn number) by 300. That's 6,000. Now divide 6,000 by 3 (the ply number). That's 2,000. So you know that you have 2,000 yards in one pound of size 20/3 linen yarn.

Yardage per pound of different size linen yarns.

Size 1	Size 2	Size 10	Size 20	Size 40	Size 60
1 ply 300	1,800	3,000	6,000	12,000	18,000
2 ply 150	900	1,500	3,000	6,000	9,000
3 ply 100	600	1,000	2,000	4,000	6,000
5 ply 60	360	600	1,200	2,400	3,600

To figure the yardage of yarn required for any weaving project, multiply the desired yardage by the number of ends to get the complete warp yardage. To this then add about 3/4 of a yard for loom wastage and for tying to the rollers, and shrinkage of materials. This is important, so as to get the desired length in your finished piece. With some materials it is important to allow from 4 to 6 inches for each yard to allow for shrinkage. Yardage of yarn for weft is approximately the same as for the warp exclusive of waste.

Suppose you want to weave 3 yards of material 30 inches wide for a short beach coat. Here's how you figure how much yarn to buy. Each warp thread will be 3 yards long, plus 3/4 yard loom wastage, plus 1/2 yard (3 times 6 inches) for shrinkage or 4 1/4 yards in all. If you use a 20/2 linen yarn set in a 24 dent, and since there are 720 ends in a 30-inch fabric (see table on Weaving, Leaflet No. 208-NB), you will need 4 1/4 times 720 ends for the warp or 3,060 yards. You will also need slightly under this amount for weft—there is no loom wastage in weft—or a little less than 6,000 yards in all.

Since 20/2 linen yarn, the size linen yarn suggested for a linen beach coat, comes 3,000 yards to the pound, two pounds will be ample. But even without the table above you could still figure it. Multiply 20 by 300. That's 6,000. Divide by 2. That's 3,000—or the number of yards in one pound of 20/2 linen yarn.

NOTE: Send for Weaving Leaflet 208-NB containing table for Linen Yarn Sizes. See Leaflet Notes on page 64.

YOU'LL settle that Xmas Toys Question, score an all-ages hit, with these cunning stuffed animals, this companionable doll couple. The animals, No. 1285, are about 6 inches high. Children will love their cuddly shapes, coy expressions, and work-a-day outfits—the rabbit's apron, rooster's overalls, etc. Outfits can't be mislaid, because you appliqué them right on the animals themselves! Make animals from unbleached muslin. They are cut in two sections—back and front alike. Then add appliqué caps, apron, etc., from bright-colored sewing-box scraps. Transfers for nine cuties. Blue. 35c.

Danny and Dolly Dingle, No. 1284, will keep recipients grinning. Wonderful in college dorms, bedrooms, sun rooms. Cheery, diverting toys for small fry. Danny Dingle, in fact, was first made for a little boy, age four, who simply loved this gay, manly doll. He was especially amused by Danny's long, thin nose. Stuff with cotton. 29 inches high. Blue transfer. Pattern, 35c.

"SWEET ADELINE", UNDOUBTEDLY

HOOPLA! Here's fun for every woman who can embroider, who has a small or a large home, with kitchen or kitchenette, and who remembers the 1890's, either from experience or hearsay. Could anyone resist putting in a few stitches on a plain dish towel to bring out those noble mustachios in the 'good ole barbershop quartette'? We have a hunch that the man of the house will like this design, too—not to mention that wonderful church choir, sporting the big puff sleeves, and the cyclists in their costumes of the period. These four and two other designs in the pattern, are to be worked in gay colors and in the easy stitches that can be seen on this page, which show how outlining, cross-stitch and darning stitch can be used with amazing ingenuity. Blue transfer, No. 1288, six towel designs, 2 for pot holders. 30c.

MAKE TIN DÉCOR FOR CHRISTMAS

Would you ever dream that old tin cans could be made to look architectural enough to grace the living-room mantelpiece? Mr. G. E. Baumann Jr. fashioned this clever miniature fireplace with complete accessories and two glistening candle trees—all of tin. The fireplace has a separate log tray for extra fuel, andirons, tongs that really work, and a tiny poker.

If you happen to have a few of those tall juice cans, so much the better, because they have ribbed sides. Besides the tin cans, you will need a soldering iron, blunt nosed pliers, rotating type can opener, medium size tin snips, some red and green paint and two red candles.

WRAP AND TIE THE GLAMOR WAY

Now that Fashion has come to packaging, you can't just tie a ribbon around a gift box—if you want to please! However, by cleverly using a few patterns—the same patterns with which you pretty-up dresses and hats—you can turn out gift boxes as smartly decorated as any displayed in the most exclusive stores. And they'll have that hand-done Decorator Look!

The decorations shown in the photograph—which our designers created for you—are all made of paper. Consequently, the only materials you will need, besides a pattern, are a few rolls of crepe and tissue paper, some plain-colored gift wrapping paper, paste and crayons. For flower stems, you'll need small pieces of wire.

The McCall patterns used are of four different types. A pattern for fabric flowers—you make these flowers, of course, from paper—an appliqué transfer pattern, a flower transfer, two animal transfers. You don't need to buy all of them. Pick the pattern that appeals to you and use it to make several boxes. For instance, if you are flower-minded and would like to make the luscious nose-gay tucked into the large box (see photo), use Fabric Flower Pattern No. 1246, price 25c. Roses, 'mums, and leaves decorating the box, are made of plain-colored gift paper. If you like you can use children's construction paper to make flowers and leaves. You can get construction paper in any art or sta- (Continued on page 95)

BACK-TO-SCHOOL SLIPON SET

Even would-be mathematicians, from age 4 up, can use this model, which is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10. As shown, knitted in Mertex Nylon Knitting Yarn, requiring 3 2-oz. skeins sizes 4 and 6. Leaflet No. 207-NB (see page 64).

Pin-up Your Chairs

adaptable to wood edged chairs, sofas and stools which do not lend themselves easily to the usual slip covers.

Light-weight upholstery or slipcover material, such as chintz, is suitable to use. There is no sewing necessary except when material is too narrow to cover a large area. Then it must be pieced before starting the pin-up job.

For best results the furniture must be in good condition, covered with muslin or other material. If the furniture is soiled, remove the covering or thoroughly clean it. If the old covering is of dark material and the new material has a light or white background, place an old sheet or white muslin under the new covering, using a few pins to hold it in place. In cases where chair back is very concave, place cotton or sheet wadding on this spot. This will stay in place when new material is stretched tightly over it.

Before starting your pin-up job, have on hand a large box of good, strong, dress-maker pins, scissors and measuring tape. Plan the use of your material carefully. If there is piecing to be done, do this at once, matching your design. Stitch your seams and press. Then place material on area to be covered. Stick a few pins through the material into the upholstery (pin-cushion fashion) to hold the material in place for cutting.

Cut material one inch beyond edge of area to be covered. This is important, as it allows for shrinkage if material is washed at a future date. It also allows for possible errors. Stretch material over area to be covered. Gradually remove first few pins as more pins are added near the edges. These pins are to hold the material in place for the final pinning. Turn under the edge of material and put in the final pins, removing the others as work progresses. Slight adjustments may be made at this point to make a more perfect fit.

The exact method of pinning is something only experience can teach for much depends upon the furniture outlines, strength of pins and fingers, and the resourcefulness of finding the right spot for each pin. It is suggested that pins be pushed in from right to left when working in a crosswise direction; downward, when working in a vertical direction. Place pins close to the wood edge and into the braid or whatever material is to be covered. Careful pinning will not harm this material. Place pins from 1 to 2 inches apart, depending on the outline of the furniture.

After the pins have been placed give the work the "finger-test"—by running the fingers or hands over the area pinned in order to be certain no sharp ends are exposed. If so, replace or adjust the offender. Furniture is finished by using the moss tape fringe. Put the tape edge of the fringe next to the wood edging of the furniture (very close). Put pins 2 or 3 inches apart and endeavor to conceal heads of pins in the braid. Fluff the fringe and pat down, the idea being to spread out the fringe to cover the braid.

Pad and Paint Your Chairs

be refinished in this manner. If you have such a chair in your attic, follow the helpful hints below and invite it downstairs.

You will need to use some of the steps given in McCall Re-upholstery Lesson No. 120-NB (see Leaflet Notes on page 64) so send for this leaflet first and then begin by removing the old varnish from the chair with a good varnish remover or Double X Floor Cleaner, following the directions. Soak old rags or burlap in this solution and wrap them around the legs and curves of the chair back (several applications may be necessary if the chair is covered with many coats of old varnish). Scrub stubborn spots off with steel wool; rinse the chair twice with clear, cool water and rub as dry as possible.

To lighten the chair more than it has been bleached by the Double X Floor Cleaner, oxalic acid may be applied. The method is to dissolve three ounces of oxalic acid crystals in a quart of hot water and then apply the solution repeatedly over the surface for half an hour, using an old rag. Flush the surface with a solution of borax and hot water; then finish by rinsing clean with cool water and drying thoroughly.

While the chair is drying, you may start to upholster. Use the method for webbing seat shown in steps 1, 2 and 3 of Leaflet No. 120-NB, the main difference being that on this type of chair, the webbing is stretched across the top of the seat frame; disregard steps 4 and 5. Cover the webbing with a piece of unbleached muslin, then apply the rolled edge, as in step 7. Pad the chair slightly above the rolled edge, as in steps 8 and 9. Cover the padding, as in step 10, except that in covering chair illustrated on page 69 it is necessary to bring the cotton covering completely down over the wood frame and tack it underneath the seat. If the chair has braces at the sides, these may be unscrewed and the covering pulled straight over the side.

Before completing the final step of applying your upholstery fabric it is best to have the woodwork of the chair completely refinished. The entire surface of the woodwork should be thoroughly sanded with No. 00 sand paper. In order to lighten the chair and give a modern effect, paint the surface with white paint and while paint is still wet, rub it off with an old rag in the direction of the grain of the wood, leaving a small amount of the paint on the chair. Allow the chair to dry thoroughly and then varnish with a dull varnish, such as Devco Finish Flat Velour.

The chair is now "made-up" and ready to be "dressed". Apply your upholstery fabric in the same manner that you applied your muslin. Cover a large wooden 1½" button with your fabric. Using a strong cord threaded into a very long needle, bring needle up from the center bottom of your chair through the webbing, stuffing and upholstery fabric. Attach the cord to the back of the button, then return needle through chair padding to the bottom of the chair. Pull and tie ends of cord tightly over a small piece of cotton as in quilt tacking. Finish chair by putting a piece of black cambric on bottom of chair seat.

STITCH A RUFFLE HERE, ADD A RUFFLE THERE!

You "sew"-clever girls needn't sigh longingly when confronted with attractive ready-made drapes and slip covers. You can achieve those same bright effects, yourself. Just sit down to the good, old sewing machine, and in no time at all, you can ruffle up fine, fresh draperies, slip covers, dressing table covers, with exactly the right colors and materials!

Attractive suggestion for a couch cover. Match deep rose woven cotton top to color of roses in cretonne ruffle. Make pillow top reversible.

Idea for dressing table: skirt—held in place by a stiffened, ruffled band.

THE way this studio couch cover is made can be recommended on two scores: 1) its attractive appearance and 2) its practical value. Its charm lies in the fact that the plain dark color, a very dark rose, matches one of the rose tones in the figured cretonne used for the ruffle. The repetition of the rose color, used as a wide binding—1 1/4", gives the whole design a very finished appearance. The design is practical from the standpoint of use and the laundry problem, as the dark top, of a material similar to a cotton twill, doesn't wrinkle easily and stays clean for a long time—and laundry problems are certainly a big factor today in the affairs of the housewife. The pillow is nicely planned by Mrs. Muzy, who made this set. One side is covered with the rose print while the other is covered with the plain rose. The ruffles are reversed also.

We like the way the top of the cover is attached to the ruffle. The top gives the appearance of overlapping the ruffle, the stitching being about 3/4" from the outer edge. Here again Mrs. Muzy has worked out a nice idea in attaching the two ruffles around the edge of the pillow top.

To attach the ruffle to the couch cover, first, bind the bottom of the ruffle and then gather the top. You can see by the picture that the ruffle doesn't need to be over full but the fullness depends somewhat on the thickness or the thinness of the material you are using. For instance, you might make a chintz ruffle with more fullness than you would one of cretonne. Start the couch top by turning the edge under all around, a distance of at least 1 1/4", and baste this down. If you are using heavy material for the top, be sure to mitre the corners. Now stitch the top 3/4" from the edge, with the same color thread. Next, attach the ruffle underneath the top piece—baste it first, then stitch it in place, 1/2" outside of the first stitching. This allows the top to lap over the ruffle, about 3/8".

To make the pillow, first take the cretonne top, lay it down, right side up, place your gathered ruffle of plain material on the top, with right side of ruffle facing right side of pillow top. Baste the gathered ruffle to the pillow top, allowing about 3/4" seam. Now, take the back of the pillow top (the plain piece) and sew the chintz ruffle to it in similar manner. You now have a ruffled top and a ruffled back. These pieces, instead of being joined together in

To reproduce a favorite picture in needlepoint, Phyllis Drake, author of this article, carried out the idea of using copper window screen over the picture. Here she tells us all about it.

WHEN, as a highschool girl, I wanted to make a needlepoint copy of a favorite ship picture, both my mother and our instructor had doubts. "There are no such patterns to be had. There is too much detail in such a picture".

These were some of the objections I encountered. That these objections were overcome was due to a chance application of the practical. Credit goes to my instructor, Frau Bennett, who suggested that I try window screen over the picture as a substitute for ruling it off into small squares.

A little experimenting at the hardware store revealed that when the picture was covered with copper screen, the colors remained bright and true, but when covered with galvanized screen, the color values were distorted. The copper screening I bought had a gauge of 16 to the inch, whereas the canvas gauge was 12 to the inch, thus indicating that the needlepoint picture would be several inches larger than the pattern.

The screen alone did not solve the pattern problem. After the picture was pasted on a large cardboard, a piece of heavy cellophane was clipped over the picture to protect it. Then, being very sure the mesh of the screen ran parallel to the borders of the picture and lay flat on the subject, the screen and cellophane were sewed in place over the edges of the cardboard.

My easel was an adjustable music stand. Placed beside my chair, the pattern could be studied without having to drop the needlepoint. Each stitch to be taken was indicated by an ink dot on the cellophane in its respective mesh. Marking the dots helped to count the stitches, established the direction in which the stitches should run, and removed all doubt as to the number of stitches and rows completed.

One unit of the pattern was finished at each sitting, or one sail or section of the hull was completed each Saturday afternoon. The most tedious work of the tapestry was putting in the water. Here there was no unit of pattern, and still more complicating were the infinite number of shades of blue and aqua to be matched. However, I did not stint myself, and from Mother's yarns I further augmented my supply of colors.

Part of the difficulty in coloring arose because the market did not offer enough shades of one color to make the smooth blend from the darkest to the lightest. The matching of colors in the sails and ship was easy. But the subtle shading in the water, clouds, and horizon presented an obstacle. To have changed this coloring or to have minimized the shades would have destroyed the effect of motion and authenticity captured in the painting.

Here I was fortunate in using three-strand tapestry yarns. To make a break between a light blue and a medium blue, I would (Continued on page 94) one seam, are to be joined with a connecting strip between the ruffles, which makes the seaming very much less bulky and much more convenient. Cut the connecting strip about 1½" wide and long enough to go completely around the four sides of the pillow top. First, sew strip completely around edge of pillow top, then attach pillow back to the other edge of strip, leaving one side open for inserting pillow.

Stitch a Ruffle Here

Dressing Table Skirt: To make a dressing table skirt, as illustrated, ruffle and stiffen the top, then ruffle the edge. The ruffled band is cut 5½" wide; it is turned back ¾" from each edge, basted, and then ruffled ½" in from each folded edge, using the ruffer sewing-machine attachment. The top of skirt section is now ruffled and attached under the lower edge of the ruffled band, by sewing along the previous stitching.

A stiffened lining for ruffled band is now made to go in back of band in this manner: cut a piece of material 5" wide, and long enough to fit dressing table skirt. On right side of this piece, sew snaps 1" in from edge of material and about 2" apart, for attaching to dressing table top. Stitch underneath top edge of ruffled band.

Use a piece of canvas stiffening about 3" wide. Cover it with a piece of white flannelette. Place between ruffled top piece and the 5" lining. Fold 5" lining over stiffening. Tack stiffening into place and blind-stitch entire stiffened backing to dressing table skirt.

For skirt ruffle cut a piece of material 3½" wide. Turn back ¾" from one edge, baste, and then ruffle ½" from the folded edge. Turn back ¾" from the other edge and ruffle ½" from fold at edge. First, baste narrow ruffled edge to back of dressing table skirt and then fold ruffling so that stitching of wide ruffled edge comes in similar position on the right side of skirt. Baste and stitch to front of dressing table skirt.

HERE'S A BOX AS GAY AS CHRISTMAS

EVERYONE can find a place for a gaily decorated box. So why not give yourself a pre-Christmas gift—that is the joy of making your gifts yourself!

We chose a white pine box, as shown above, for cards, also a box for cards or jewelry, and a sweet little ring box for decorating (not shown). For painting we selected McCall Transfer No. 1269. We used motifs A, B, C and D that were natural for our purpose.

Next came the question "Would a McCall Transfer Pattern stamp on raw wood?" The answer is "Yes." (see Note below.) Before using the transfer we gave the boxes a thorough sanding with #00 sandpaper. Using a small, pointed, water color brush, we painted the motifs with the common variety of water color pan paints mixed with white opaque paint. We used the paint thick enough to cover the lines given for directions of stitches in the transfer. When the boxes were thoroughly dry we shellacked them. (Box used, from American Handicrafts Company. See box in color on page 50.)

use two strands of light blue and one of medium blue, and then two strands of medium blue and one of light blue before using solid medium blue. Although this blending trick is not used to a great extent in needlepoint today, it had the effect of reproducing the flecks of light on the surface of the water which would have been impossible to duplicate any other way. In all, I used 6 shades of blue, white, 3 shades of blue-gray, pale yellow, yellow-green, 3 shades of aqua, and 3 shades of blue-violet, plus numerous blends.

This mixing of shades also made it possible to reproduce the shadows at the edges of the clouds and the base on the horizon. By comparison, the making of the wide needlepoint frame in two contrasting colors was smooth and speedy. Then the actual needlepoint work was done, but much detail essential to the ship had to be added.

Whenever one sets out to build his own pattern, he is confronted with the difficulty of deciding what detail should be included. Frequently one mesh in the pattern would show two colors or shades. Generally speaking, I made the stitch of the predominating color. But where the billows of the sail or a wave called for an additional stitch to complete the illusion of a curve, that stitch was made regardless of the color predominating in the pattern. The only petitpoint stitches were in the red and white stripes of the flag.

Where a mast tapered out to be too narrow for a stitch, the remainder of the mast was overlaid when the needlepoint was completed. Likewise, with rigging that tapered out, the rest of the line was superimposed on the needlepoint. Thus, after the tapestry had been soaked and stretched, I went over the ship and completed the detail with various sizes of embroidery thread, depending upon the relative thickness of the lines. All prominent riggings, yards and ladders were copied from the painting with the help of a mariner, who advised me which lines would be necessary to make the picture authentic but not overdone. During this final stage, the screen had been removed from the pattern.

When the picture was completed, it was entered in the Seattle Post Intelligencer needlework contest and won second prize in the needlepoint division. Since then, the picture has been displayed in several exhibits, but the praise that really makes me happy is that voiced by the man who likes it as a ship picture.

It was no freak of fate that the lazy man's pattern worked. Since the completion of the ship picture, my friends and I have used screen successfully over other pictures to make patterns.

It is impossible for me to compare the screen technique with that of ruling off a picture or drawing it on graph paper. However, when using a screen, precaution should be taken against the distortion caused by viewing the pattern from an angle. To count the stitches while looking at the pattern from off center, will result in errors of coloring and position that will throw the entire picture out of perspective. Simply studying the pattern with the eye at right angles to the surface eliminates this distortion. If the screen is fastened securely to the picture and the wires remain parallel to their respective borders, the screen pattern is all that is needed.

By using a screen, any large picture without great detail can be reproduced on needlepoint canvas. Double satisfaction will result from copying a picture you know your family enjoys. Not only will you have produced a work of lasting value, but you will afford never-ending pleasure to all those who behold a good picture.

HERE'S a true story of how some circus animals came to visit some little children who were very, very good, as told by two of our readers, Mrs. M. T. Marston and Mrs. S. T. Wybowen. Our story opens with the circus crossing the border (View A). Then we have a full view of the king of the forests drawn by his two trusty steeds (View B). The grand finale shows all hands taking their places for a last bow (View C). These circus fellows will gladly repeat their performance for your little cherubs any time in the year. All the appliqué animals came from McCall Appliqué Pattern No. 1069, yellow or blue transfer, 25 cents. The lion's cage is Mrs. Marston's own idea. The appliqué quilt was made by Mrs. Wybowen. Make a stuffed animal to match, from McCall Pattern No. 1078, price, 30 cents. Includes 8 designs.

tionary store. It comes in small packages containing several sheets in a variety of plain colors. For rose, use six small-sized rose petals (see pattern). Use small-sized 'mum' pattern. Leaf edges can either be cut with pinking shears or left plain. Nosegay shown has two pink, two yellow roses. Give yellow roses pink centers, pink roses yellow centers. 'Mum' colors are pink, yellow, lavender and blue. The box shown was wrapped in gray gift wrapping paper, tied with pink satin ribbon.

Crepe paper was used to make the two roses and the leaves on the small square box. Use medium-sized petal. Colors are dusty pink, lemon yellow. Wrap in pale green, tie with pink.

To achieve the smart Mexican flower design (large square box), use Appliqué Transfer Pattern No. 1249, price 45c. Take large flower, buds and separate leaves from D (see pattern). Cut appliques from colored gift wrapping paper, or from colored sheets of the construction paper mentioned above. Use fiesta tones (see colors on pattern envelope). Paste designs on wrapper—any standard, regular paste will do the job. Use shiny-surfaced, light blue wrapper, tie with Mexican gold satin ribbon.

The graceful wild flower spray (long, narrow box) is stamped directly on the wrapper. Use Transfer Pattern No. 1147, price 25c. Follow directions on leaflet in pattern, and stamp on tissue wrapper exactly as you would stamp a design on material. Use medium warm iron. Then color design with crayons. Colors used are: royal blue wrapper, yellow flowers, green leaves. Tie with striped yellow-and-blue ribbon.

The engaging small animal designs are also stamped directly on tissue wrappers. These designs were originally intended for embroidery trims, but you'll find they work out bright as a button on your boxes. Use Transfer Pattern No. 1238 (price 25c) for the Marketing Duck. Color duck yellow, her basket pink, bonnet blue. Use red tissue wrapper, blue yarn tie. Yarn ties are cunning with humorous animals. Transfer Pattern No. 1253 (price 25c) gives you the designs for squirrel and lamb. Incidentally, with Nos. 1238 and 1253, you have a choice of 20 different animal motifs. Outline squirrel in browns and greens on yellow tissue, tie with green yarn. Stamp lamb on white tissue. Outline in baby blue. Give him pink feet, pink neck bow, and tie with pink and blue narrow satin ribbon.

You'll find—just as millions of others have found—that reading "Strange Fruit" is an emotional experience that will stir you to your very depths... an emotional experience so different and so powerful that you will think, feel, and talk to others about "Strange Fruit" just as you would about one of the great emotional experiences in your personal life.

You'll never forget this tender story of the love of Tracy Dean and Nonnie Anderson!

"Strange Fruit" tells the innermost secrets of its amazingly "real" characters... deals with the things people are afraid to talk about, the things hidden away in bureau drawers and locked in troubled hearts. Yes, "Strange Fruit" will open your eyes and—your heart—as it reveals the passions, hypocrisies, loves and hates of the men and women of a small Southern town... as it shows you what happens to this town's white and colored children when they emerge from childhood into a world where skin pigment is a pitiless barrier between human beings when they dare to meet on the same level of thought, of conversation and—of love.

Thrill to the fearless and penetrating way "Strange Fruit" reveals shocking truths! Be spellbound with its unforgettable power as one of the most dramatic love stories of all times! Take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to get "Strange Fruit" absolutely FREE as a new member of The Fiction Book Club. Mail Coupon Now!
